MARYLAND COUNTIES PROCUREMENT DIRECTORY

Selling to your local counties is a great way to break into government contracting and gain some past performance.

Below are links to county purchasing websites within our service area. Generally, each website posts its open opportunities, and you can subscribe to receive announcements. You will need to subscribe individually to each local government's bid service.

The city procurement sites within our service area are too numerous to list, but you can usually identify a city's purchasing website by Googling [Name of City] purchasing or [Name of City] procurement. For example, search for "City of Baltimore procurement" and the second result is their list of open RFPs.
